About ATC

The American Transplant Congress (ATC) is the joint annual Congress of the American Society of Transplant Surgeons (ASTS) and the American Society of Transplantation (AST). The ATC provides a forum for exchange of new scientific and clinical information relevant to solid organ and tissue transplantation and brings together transplant physicians, scientists, nurses, organ procurement personnel, pharmacists, allied health professionals, and other transplant professionals. The educational offerings provide attendees the opportunity to learn cutting-edge advances in research and promote the exchange of ideas and practice in the field of solid organ and tissue transplantation. ATC is an annual Congress that welcomes 5,000 transplant professionals to present cutting-edge science that covers all organ types and offers insight into the future of the field and patient care.

About ASTS

The American Society of Transplant Surgeons represents approximately 1,800 professionals dedicated to excellence in transplantation surgery. ASTS advances the art and science of transplant surgery through patient care, research, education, and advocacy. To learn more, visit ASTS.org or email us at asts@asts.org.

About AST

Founded in 1982, the American Society of Transplantation (www.myAST.org) is dedicated to advancing the field of transplantation and improving patient care by promoting research, education, advocacy, organ donation, and service to the community. The society, with over 4,000 members, is the largest organization of transplant professionals in North America. Other transplant organizations, policy makers, regulatory agencies, payors, academic institutions, and the general public look to the AST for guidance, research, and resources related to transplantation. Email AST at info@myast.org.
