

Abstracts – Frequently Asked Questions & Issues

Q: I need to withdraw my abstract.

Unfortunately, once the submission deadline passed (November 30, 2018), it is no longer possible to withdraw abstracts. They will be published as they were submitted.

Q: Can I make edits to my abstract?

No, once the submission deadline passed (November 30, 2018), it is no longer possible to edit abstracts. They will be published as they were submitted.

Q: Can I change the presenter of my abstract?

Yes, you may have a colleague or associate present your work. The abstract will still be published with your name as the primary author, since we are not able to edit any abstracts after November 30, 2018.

If you have an oral presentation, your colleague should follow the instructions you were given for presentation and check in to the Speaker Ready Room onsite at the meeting.

If you have a poster presentation, your colleague will simply need to go to the poster session you were assigned and stand in your place.

Q: I can't log in to view the status of my abstract.

To see your presentation notification and view the status of your abstract, please do the following:

1. Log in to the abstract site here. Only the submitting author may log in and access the site.
2. Your login credentials are the ones you created when submitting your abstract. If you do not know your login, please use the "Forgot Your Username/Password" links on the page. For additional login assistance, please email atc@support.ctimeetingtech.com
3. Access your abstract, view status, or print copies from the site.

Q: Why was my abstract rejected?

Due to the overwhelming amount of abstracts submitted, it is not possible to provide feedback on why an abstract was not accepted for the meeting.

Q: Can I apply for a Young Investigator award during late breaking abstract submission?

No, only abstracts submitted in the regular abstract submission (deadline November 30, 2018) are eligible for awards.

Q: I need to change the first author on my abstract.

Unfortunately, once the submission deadline passed (November 30, 2018), it is no longer possible to edit abstracts. They will be published as they were submitted.

Q: I was selected as an oral presenter. Is my registration complimentary?

No, all presenters are required to register and pay the appropriate registration fees.

Q: I was asked to moderate an oral abstract session. Is my registration complimentary?

No, all oral abstract session moderators are required to register and pay the appropriate registration fees.

Q: I was selected as an poster presenter. Is my registration complimentary?

No, all presenters are required to register and pay the appropriate registration fees.

Q: I was selected to win an abstract Young Investigator Travel Award but am unable to attend the Congress. Can I have someone else pick-up my award?

No, in order to receive a Young Investigator Travel Award, the winner must attend and present at the Congress in either an oral or poster format. Award certificates and checks must be picked up at Registration during open hours with proof of identification provided.
